

Internet prices by the cable company must be much lower. Some cable companies charge $60.00 or more a month for high speed internet. Now that internet is becoming more of a necessity, cable companies should no longer be allowed to charge exorbitant rates for internet. High speed internet should not cost any more than $20/month.